New Sights At Ike

A new number stands at Eisenhower: 2,736. That was the number of students enrolled at Ike by November for the 1987-88 school year. Many changes occurred to accomodate those students. New classrooms, labeled the M wing, were constructed between the J and. L wings. To meet the district's teacher/student ratio, thirteen new teachers were hired.

To help the students in their endeavor to find challenging classes, a new-to-Eisenhower Dr. Marsha Edmonds was appointed to the newly created position of Associate Principal in charge of Academics.

Much to the dismay of Eisenhower students, the new sights in the residential areas north of the campus were no parking signs. Several students were informed of this when they found tickets on their cars on registration day.

For the convenience of on-campus lunch eaters, new concrete picnic benches were installed near the snack bar over the summer. Funding for these benches stemmed from the School Improvement Program as part of the Campus Beautification Project instituted by Principal Delbert Bredy.

The blue buildings located east of the K wing were built by the county as an effort to give the physically challenged a place to learn with easy access ports. Such buildings have been built at other schools.

The construction began at the close of the 1987 school year and continued through January, 1988.

Change is constant, and Eisenhower is constantly changing. New sights are forever increasing the quality of education for Eisenhower students.

To show the changes, the yearbook theme, "A Splash of Color," tried to reflect that the changes were colorful and for the betterment of Eisenhower High School. (By Geoff Kneale)

Yearbook Dedicated to Mr. Miller

The two people who were voted most worthy of the 1987 — 88 yearbook dedication were Mr. Ray Miller and Mrs. Vassie Kyritsis.

Mr. Miller has worked at Eisenhower High School for 13 years. He has worked as a long term substitute teacher and as a campus supervisor. Mr. Miller taught life science and social studies for seven years. When asked what his job was as a campus supervisor, Mr. Miller replied, "My job is to try and keep the kids in line and to make sure they stay out of trouble." When Mr. Miller walks the students to the office , he often takes the time to counsel them on their offense. He doesn't want to be the "bad" guy but wants the students to know that they can talk with him about the problem. Mr. Miller manages to do this and has earned the respect of the students.

Mrs. Kyritsis has worked at Eisenhower High School for 15 years. Mrs. Kyritsis is an English teacher and a mentor teacher. About her job as a mentor teacher, Mrs. Kyritsis said, "My job as a mentor teacher is to help new teachers and work on developing materials for teachers along with Mrs. Scambray. Mrs. Scambray and I also give inservices whenever we're asked to do this". Mrs. Kyritsis advises teachers not to forget what it was like when they were teenagers and how intimidating they also felt their teachers were. I'm not saying we have to allow the kids to misbehave, but we need to allow them to overcome their mistakes and learn from them".

In 10 years, Mrs. Kyritsis sees herself still teaching for she enjoys working with and teaching young people.

Thank you, Mr.Miller and Mrs. Kyritsis for being such great influences on those at Eisenhower High School. (By Greg Peterson)

Student Life

Students Have Fun On/Off Campus

Students participate in many activities at Eisenhower and off campus.

Some of the activities on campus were sports, organizations, clubs, teacher aides, and office workers. Off campus, students found places to study, work, swim, surf, bike ride, shop, or go to the movies.

Most students at Ike were active in some activity either on or off campus during this school year. (By Caren Smith)

Who's Got the Ball?

Homecoming was held October 16, 1987.

It all started at 3 p.m. with a parade that featured floats, clowns, Homcoming queen finalists, school board members, district personnel, Principal Del Bredy and bands from Eisenhower and two local junior high schools performing from Foothill Boulevard, up Riverside Avenue, to Ike.

Then, at 7:30 p.m., the Eagles' Varsity football team played the Riverside Poly Bears. While Tom Hoak, Ike's football coach was watching and cheering his team on to victory, Dennis Collier gained 234 yards for the Eagles.

During halftime candidates for the Homcoming queen were waiting for the final results. Leilani Delgado was crowned queen, while Rachelle Malbrough was first runner up, and second runner up was Debi Bullock.

The results of the parade floats were announced with the Azurettes winning first place, the Seniors winning second place, and the Sophomores winning third place.

After the announcements, the Eisenhower ASB officers set off a fireworks display.

After halftime James Montfleury dislocated his shoulder while he was helping Eisenhower win the Homecoming game.

At the close of the game, Eisenhower beat Riverside Poly 21 to 10. (By Caren Smith)

Flaring Pizzaz in '88

Fashion is the way of the western world. Here in America, people have always dressed with style and have been in competitition with each other over clothes.

The way in which a person dresses makes a statement about themselves. Most people have their own unique style or they dress like their friends and not necessarily as the fashion designers say. Some do follow fully the latest fads. But the fads are constantly changing; so, the fashion conscious people need a sharp fashion eye.

When people dress nicely, they generally feel good about themselves which makes them even more attractive and confident.

This year's styles are in a wide variety with so many different fabrics and textures including cotton to suedes and colors in earth tones to pastels.

Colors consisted of pastels such as peach, lime green, and mauve along with earth tones of teal, red, black and shades of khaki. Fabrics being used were cotton, knits, washable silks, acid wash denim, leather and suedes.

Some of the fasionable looks include mini skirts and bomber jackets.

Jobs Keep

Eisenhower students worked hard to earn money.

The money earned was spent in different ways: Cammie Whitesell, "To buy things for my boyfriend." Chris Kruger, "I don't spend it; I bank it!" Vaughn Fahie, "My car."

Jobs were held by students around Rialto and as far as Upland.

People Busy

Vaughn Fahie, who works at Sun International Travel Service, says, "The job is fun and has good pay for my age."

Some students said it was hard to hold a job and keep up with school work; while, others said the extra time was hardly noticed.

All agreed; however, that when the check came in, the work was well worth the time. (By Craig Conner)

Halloween was a good time for make believe. Ghosts, goblins, panda bears, gremlins, pumpkins, football players, Madonna look-a-likes, and witches filled the campus. Students and teachers showed their school and Halloween spirit by dressing up for Oct. 30.

Students showed up for the traditional costume contest at lunch time in the quad, but Student Council did not hold it.

The Rialto Recreation Department planned a carnival complete with food, games, rides, haunted house, and costume contest for all ages.

Weekend Getaways

Saturdays and Sundays were the two favorite days of the week, according to a survey of Eisenhower students. They also voted in a close second any holidays or days off that happened to come up such as days for inservices or heat.

The most popular weekend hangout activities named were skating, swimming, watching movies, football games, and parties. Students ice skated and roller skated. Popular beaches for swimming were Huntington and Newport beaches. "La Bamba," "Fatal Attraction," and "Summer School" were some of the favorite movies seen by Ike students. The most popular football game was the Eisenhower Eagles vs. the Fontana Steelers with a crowd of 10,000. Besides regular parties, students also attended napkin folding parties to work on floats.

Some Eisenhower High School students had to work on their days off from school. They held jobs at fast food restaurants and clothing stores mainly.

Weekends were looked forward to as a time to have fun and relax away from the hassles of school work. (By Jason Cox)

3 Choices for Lunch

Students at Ike have three choices for lunch: stay on campus, walk to lunch, or drive to lunch.

Most people would prefer to go and get off campus away from school.

If you chose to walk to lunch, you have your choice of Taco Bell, Wendy's, Lamppost Pizza, Mike's Super Subs, Mike's Yogurt, or your own house.

Some students who drove their cars usually either went to Carl's Jr. or McDonalds.

Staying on campus was not as bad as it seemed. To some people staying on campus there were advantages. They could socialize freely while eating lunch outside on the benches or inside the cafeteria. (By Sandy Redwine)

Three Reign at Sweetheart Dance

About 75 couples attended the Sweetheart Dance, held at the Student Union at Cal State San Bernardino, to see the Eisenhower High School queen and her court crowned.

The senior Queen was Nashaka Leon. Junior Darling was Jenny McBride, and the Sophomore Sweetheart was Tammy Reid. Michelle Lyon was first runner-up for queen.

The dance was sponsored by the Sophomore Class officers. Instead of a Basketball Homecoming court, the sophomore officers decided to have the Sweetheart Dance.

Students Achieve

Students at Eisenhower achieve in many different areas.

Four Eisenhower students won high honors for the Golden State Examination. Eleven earned honors, and fifteen received school recognition. The four high honors went to Lori Freitas, Cerena Culley, Jeff Lowe, and Paul Lynd. The purpose of GSE is to identify students worthy of being recognized for their accomplishments.

"To Gillian on Her 37th Birthday" was one of three plays to be honored by the Southern California Educational Theater Association. This was the first time Ike received this honor.

Paul Lynd, Eagle's Eye editor in chief, wrote the longest story printed in the school newspaper.

Students from wood shop classes had their projects displayed in the display case in the main office.

Other athletic and academic awards high lighted the year for Eisenhower. (By Gerrie Lester)

Sophomores

Sophomores Add New Color Shades

The 1,370 new sophomore students brought a new shade of color to replace the one that was lost when last year's seniors said their final farewells. This large amount of new students, whose number size was more than last year's, gave each counselor an addition of 200 more students on top of the other junior and senior students they already had. This gave each counselor about 500 counselees.

Almost all of the sophomore classes were filled to the limit and had no more room to spare because of the vast number of sophomore students. Each sophomore had to have English, World Cultures, PE, Driver's Education/Health Education and a total of 100 credits to become a junior.

Sophomores elected three officers in October: Mike Savage, president; Mike Hansen, vice president; and Scott MacDonald, social chairperson. The secretary and treasurer became appointed offices because no one ran for them during the elections. Appointed to these positions were Christy Flores as secretary and Kerby Kuntsler as treasurer.

Only eight sophomores chose to run for office. When sophomores were asked why they didn't run, the main reply was heard. They felt that they needed to adjust and feel comfortable at Eisenhower before getting involved in activities.

Immediately after elections, the officers had to plan the class float for the Homecoming parade. Despite the short time period, the sophomore class float placed third in the contest. (By Theresa Gonzales)

Five Lead Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class members elected three young men to lead them this year. Elected to serve as officers in the October election were Mike Savage, president; Mike Hansen, vice president and Scott MacDonald, social chairperson.

Then in November, two officers were appointed by a special Student Council committee. Christy Flores was selected to serve as Sophomore Class Secretary and Kerby Kunstler was selected to serve as Sophomore Class Treasurer.

Sophomore officers had to change their schedules to be able to have Student Council during period 4.

Activities that the officers took charge of were the Sophomore Class Float for the Football Homecoming Parade. This year's float won third place. They also are in charge of the Winter Homecoming for Basketball. They help earn money for the sophomore budget by selling candy.

Sports

Winning by Flying Colors

Eisenhower students agree with one goal for sports at school, that is to win. No matter what it may be, Eagles have competed on the football field, in the water, on tennis courts, on golf course, on wrestling mats, and on running tracks. This year's athletes took pride in the name Eagles and soared with flying colors in every sport.

At games, support could be seen and heard through the cheers from the crowd and cheerleaders. Pride and spirit were shown when a team won. Encouragements were given when a game was lost. Whenever a triumphant win took place, not only the players celebrated, but the crowd of Eisenhower students as well. Victory parties usually were held at pizza restaurants after a good game.

To win took plenty of teamwork and collaboration. No one won a team trophy without the help of the team in any sport. The coaches encouraged their members to work for team effort. That was how Eagles stayed on top. After all, what does every Eisenhower athlete have in common as a goal? As Derrik Law, Eisenhower's senior varsity football line-backer, said, "To win!" (By Laurie Smith)

Varsity Volleyball Is a Team

The Lady Eagles' Varsity Volleyball Team was lead by Coach Paul Watkins and team captain Laurie Dunbar. The team's overall record was 10-10 for the season.

According to one member, Teresa Pedrosa, the team was "pretty good." The members felt that they worked together as a team.

Teams that the Lady Eagles played were Colton, Riverside Poly, San Gorgonio, Moreno Valley, Fontana, Redlands, and Rubidoux. (By Patrice Walsh)

JV Volley Bumps into Season

The 1987-88 JV Volleyball season was off to a very good start, placing fourth in league with a 9-5 Citrus Belt League record and a 15-8 overall record.

Team members placed second out of 32 teams in the Alta Loma/Montclair Tourney, losing only to Fontana in the championship game.

"We had a lot of team spirit, and we had fun," said team member Natalie Angle, sophomore, who received the coaches' award at the volleyball banquet.

Also receiving awards was Ellen Adams, most inspirational; Janice Diaz, most most improved, and Shandi Byrd, the most valuable.

Many players will return next year hoping to play varsity. (By Ryan Carrigan)

XC Breaks Records

The Eisenhower Cross Country program had one of its best seasons for 1987-1988.

Lack of participation hurt the Eagles in past season but hopes were lifted after the good turnout this year.

The boys' varsity team placed 4th in the Citrus Belt League (CBL) and the boys' JV team went undefeated with a record of 8-0.

The boys' sophomore team assembled to run only at the invitationals and also were undefeated. The team placed 1st at the Colton, Perris, Yucaipa, Arlington, and Mt. SAC Invitaitonals. The sophomores also made Eisenhower history by becoming the 1st team to ever win a championship at the prestigious Mt. SAC Invitational.

The teams were comprised of seniors: Eric Thomas, Rolf Wuerch, Ross Velasco, and Steve Pitts; juniors: Frank Sharpe, Joe Madrid, Gary Motley, Chris Jacobs, David Cox, and Donald Bender; and sophomores: Luis Escanuela, Jason Jenkins, Ray Carrillo, Carlos Corondo, Mike Savage, Scott McDonald, Keith Chrisholm, and Corey Walker.

Although the low number of girls prevented the team from winning all but two of their dual meets spirits were high.

This was the first team the girls have had since 1984 and the changes of a team for next year are good, said Coach Tony Black. The team was made up of seniors: Tami Lawler, Denise Morales, Sharon Swift, and Lorin Guillory; and junior TD Jackson.

For both the boys' and girls' teams, records were broken.

Frank Sharpe set the varsity boys individual record of 15:39. The sophomore record was taken by Luis Escanela in a time of 15:49. The varsity girls' individual record was set by Denise Morales in a time of 20:00.

The boys' varsity team record was changed to 79:32 by Frank Sharpe, Luis Escanuela, Rolf Wuerch, Carlos Coronodo and Jason Jenkins. The boys JV record was set by Ray Carrillo, Gary Motley, Mike Savage, Ross Velasco, and David Cox in a time of 87:02.

Luis Escanuel came in 7th at CBL Finals at the Fontana course with a time of 7:24.. He was the only All-CBL runner from both teams.

The girls' varsity team record was set by Denise Morales, Tami Lawler, Sharon Swift, TD Jackson, and Lorin Guillory in a time of 115:57.

Head Coach Tony Black said, "It was the most enjoyable season I ever had because everyone was a pleasure to work with, and they all had good attitudes."

Tennis Serves with Pride

Ike's Girls' Tennis Team consisted of nine team members. The valuable player this year was Tina Thompson. She was Ike's number one player in the singles games. The most improved player was Christy Ullrich. She has been on Ike's Tennis Team for three years. The Coach's Award went to Lynette Jueneman, who showed her dedication and support to the team. Coach Wilson said he was proud of the efforts given by every player at the games and tournaments. Some of opponents played were Riverside Poly, Rubidoux, San G, and Moreno Valley. (By Miriam Phillips)

Varsity Football Goes to Playoffs

The 1987-88 Eisenhower Varsity Fooball team once again got to the playoffs. The season started off with a bang as Eisenhower shut out Escondido.

The following week Ike got a convincing win over Palm Springs. They then spanked Norco and went into league play with an impressive 3-0 record.

The Eagles beat San G. in their first league game. They went on to beat Moreno Valley and then Riverside Poly in the Homecoming game.

Ike had a 6-0 record going into the Fontana game. Before a record crowd of over 8,500 Eisenhower fought hard and gve Fontana a run for its money before suffering its first defeat of the season.

Ike then beat Rubidoux and Colton. The Eagles finished league play with an overtime loss to Redlands.

The Eagles drew a home game against Long Beach Wilson in the opening round of the playoffs. Ike led throughout most of the game and had a seven-point lead with a minute to play. Long Beach Wilson drove up filed and go a touch down to pull within 14-13. Long Beach decided to go for two and got it to give them a 15-14 lead. Eisenhowerthen had one last chance, but a 45-yard field goal came up short and the season had ended.

This year's defense consisted of All-CIF linebacker, Michael Smalls; linebacker, Frank Sullivan; defensive end, Anthony Daulton; defensive backs, Jomo Robinson and Stacy Wilcots; defensive lineman, Alfonso Aquila; and linebacker LaRahn Cooper.

Reserve linebacker Hondo Zuniga did a good job filling in when Frank Sullivan was out with a pulled hamstring muscle. The offense was led by quarterback Steve Hoak who passed for 932 yards and seven TDs in regular season play. Running back Dennis Collier rushed for 1,384 yards, a 7.56 average, and 15 TDs in regular season play. Dennis led the league in rushing through most of the season.

Runningback Daryl McChristian was hampered by a back injury most of the season. Wide receiver Keith Horn had 25 receptions for a 13.7 yard average. The offense was led by Craig Bowman.

The Eagles had eight players make All-CBL first team first year: Dennis Collier, Daryl McChristian, Steve Hoak, Craig Bowman, Stacy Wilcots, James Montfleury, Michael Smalls, and Anthony Daulton. Six Eagles, Keith Horn, Joe Martinez, Don Rentz, Maurice Wilson, Frank Sullivan, and LaRahn Cooper, made the second team. (By Mike Clark)

Mr. Big Stuff

Craig Bowman, offensive line captain, has played varsity for two years. He hopes to attend college on a football scholarship.

Craig is very proud of the fact that he was a Debutante escort.

This year he was named first team, All-Citrus Belt League.

As member of the school club, Brothers and Sisters United, Craig said that he enjoyed being part of the club. However his favorite extra curricular activity was football. (By Mike Clark)

One of the Best

What stands 6 feet, 4 inches tall and weighs 220 lbs.? It's Mike Smalls, the All-CIF linebacker. Mike has received scholarship offers from just about every major college and university in the country.

He has lettered varsity three years in football, two years in basketball, and two years in baseball.

He is a very strong candidate to win the prestigious Hubb's award given annually to the best all-around senior athlete in San Bernardino county.

Michael is regarded by scouts as one of the best high school linebackers in the nation. Mike hopes to someday play in the NFL.

His family is very proud of him and attends every game. Mike also played tight end and punted. (By Mike Clark)

Doing It All for the Team

Eisenhower Eagles finished the JV football season this year with a 2-5 record.

Many people in the stands participated by getting together and cheering the Eagles on. A good yard gain, interception, pass or touchdown was not made just because of a good play. It was made because of teamwork and dedication. Each football player did a lot to make a good team.

Going to every practice takes dedication. Derrik Law said that being on the football team was a great feeling because the players were unified and stuck together. Just being part of a team meant a lot. Jose Soto, number 81 wide receiver on the J.V. football team, felt the same way. He said he thought football was a great sport and had played on a Junior All American League called the Spartans for three years. He worked and practiced hard to stay on the team.

Practices ran from 2:45 to 5:15 p.m. for specialities. For grade point average a 2.0 was to be maintained, but teachers always expected more. Much dedication to go to practices was needed to make the team its best when they played games. Jose commented about being a J.V. football player, "Don't give up. If you try hard enough you'll make it. Never let people discourage you."

Hollis Johnson, varsity line backer of the Eisenhower Eagles, said about football, "I do it all for my team!" (By Laurie Smith)

Sophomore Eagles Seven Wins

The 1987-88 Sophomore Football Team had a successful year with an overall record of 7 wins and 2 losses.

For the fifth consecutive season, Brian Latner coached the team.

In the 1986-87 season, the Sophomore Eagles went 4-6, but they turned that around. With a powerful defense and stong offense, the Eagles rolled over their opponents.

There was not one great player but a team of great players, said the coach. It took a lot of team work for the Eagles to get where they ended, but it was worth it, Coach Latner added. (By Greg Peterson)

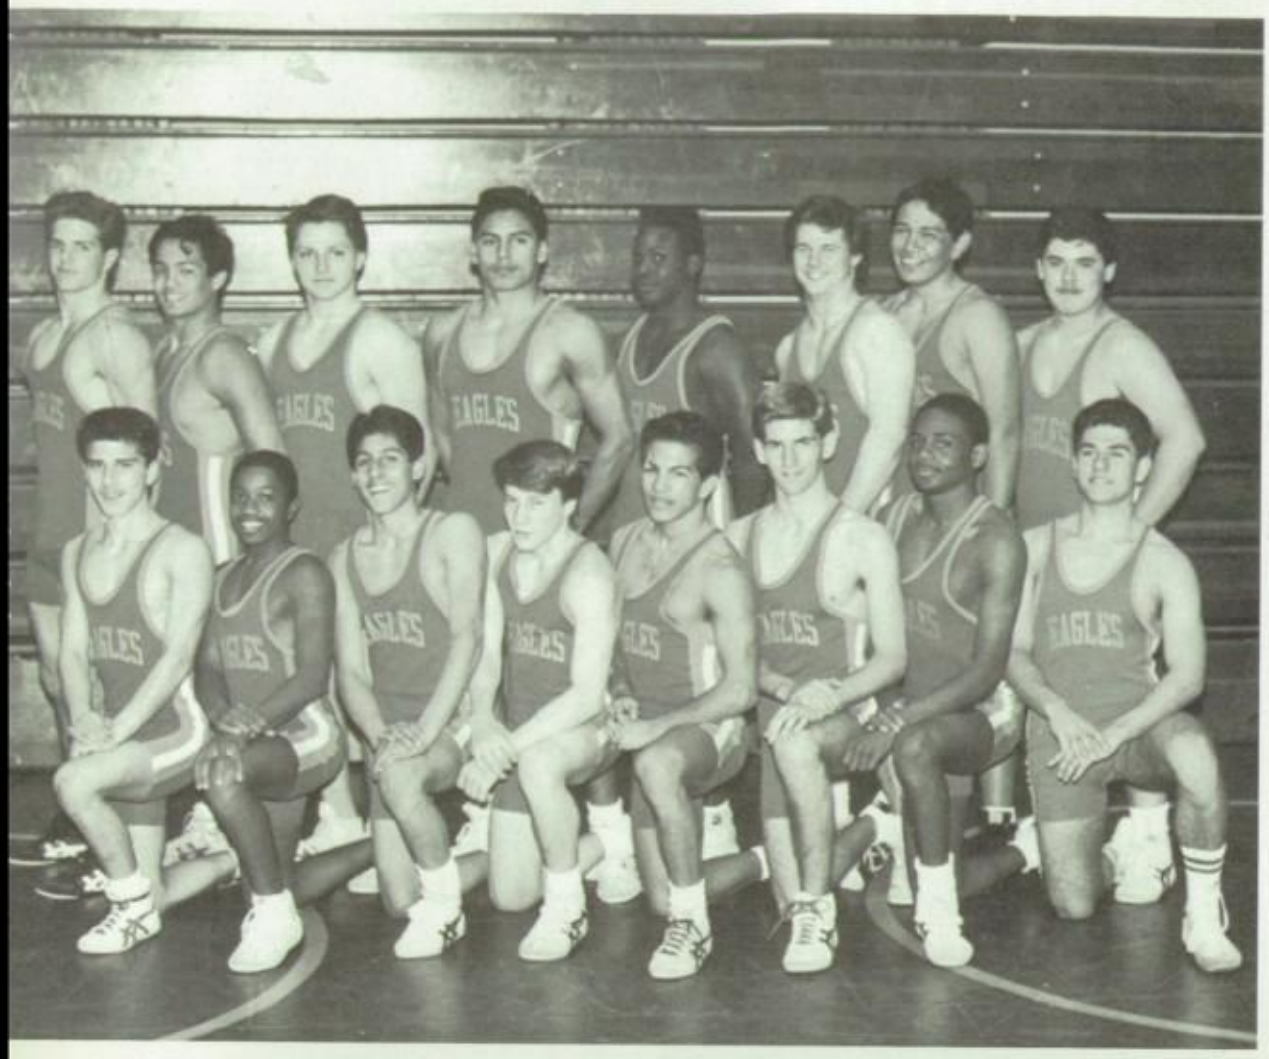
The Ups and Downs of Wrestling



The Eisenhower Varsity Wrestling Team had a season similar to a roller coaster ride.

The first half of the season the Eagles did well beating Ramona, San G, and Moreno Valley. They placed third at the Northview 28-team varsity tournament. It was the first time in five years an Ike team placed among the top three.

The team met with problems before the Ike vs Fohi showdown. Senior Derek Parra, couldn't wrestle for fear of re-opening a cut received the Saturday before the match. Senior Shawn Crawford was unable to wrestle due to an illness, and Captain Paul Baeza wrestled despite his illness. Ike and the CBL title fell to Fohi.

The Eagles came back to win Rubidoux with their full team wrestling but the rest of the season was down hill.

The loss of Derek Parra, Tony Arnold, Roderick Adams, and Robert Casanares weakend the team's strength. Without their complete team the Eagles lost their last two matches to Colton and Redlands.

"This season was the first season that I can remember where we were plagued with injuries and illnesses at key matches. The team was young with only three seniors in the line up. We will be stronger next year," stated Head Coach Sid Gilbreath. (By Denise Morales)

Varsity Boys' Basketball Regroups

The 1987-88 Varsity Boys' Basketball team got off to a rocky start but regrouped to end the season with a 6-8 record in league and 8-14 overall.

The Eagles were lead by first year coach Martin Sipe. Coach Sipe was not completely satisfied with his team's performance. He felt the members could have done better.

The players included seniors Sean Evans, Damon Watson, Charles Stringer, and Ben Ramsdale. Juniors were Kirk Warren and Sean Hardge. Sophomores included Nubian London, Kevin Foster, Demond Smith, and Josh Sipe. (By Mike Clark)

JV Basketball Wins

Basketball this year was a success in many ways. A team of good players was the key to this year's good season.

One key player was Donyell (Packy) Collins who played guard and sometimes forward. His interest for this sport was because he felt it was a fast action, non stopping game. The toughest opponents Donyell could remember competing against were Redlands players.

The head coach for JV Basketball was Mr. Gerald Silvestri. A banquet was held for the players, parents and coaches at the beginning of the season. It was a Team Parent Night to introduce parents to the team.

The Eagles' biggest victory that Packy could recall was against Moreno Valley.

The JV Basketball team won a few championships and trophies this year, also. They proved to have the Eagles' pride and spirit. (By Lauren Smith)

Varsity Girls' Soccer Promising

With a league record of 1-8-5 and an overall record of 2-12-5, the Girls' Varsity Soccer season came to an end. The star players of the team were Keri Maine and the goal keeper Sherrie Ward, said Head Coach Doug Shevalier.

"The toughest teams to play this year were defending champions San Gorgonio and Riverside Poly," said Coach Shevalier.

A banquet was held in the cafeteria on March 9.

Holly Newton, Sherrie Ward, and Keri Maine were the three white lettermen recipients this season.

Football Coach Leads Softball

A new coach stepped into the Varsity Softball coaching position this year. Mr. Tom Hoak, head football coach, took over when Mr. Ed Burns and Mr. Jess Angel were not able to coach the softball team.

Coach Hoak had one year of softball coaching experience at Pacific High School in 1982.

His goals are to develop good team morale, have players enjoy playing, and work at winning. He said the main difference between coaching girls and boys is that the girls do not take the sport as seriously as the boys.

The way he plans on coaching will take a lot of time and cooperation, he said.

Coach Hoak plans to coach next year and hopes that the team will be very competitive.

Teams which were faced by the 1988 Softball Team at Eisenhower were Alta Loma, Coachella Valley, Cajon, Ramona, San Gorgonio, Moreno Valley, Riverside Poly, Colton, Fontana, Redlands, and Rubidoux. (By Teresa Pedroza)

Never Out-Hustled

The 1987-88 Eisenhower Varsity Baseball team was coached by Head Coach Tom Benedickt and Assistant Coach Monte Skidmore. Coach Benedickt worked with the pitchers and outfielders. Coach Skidmore was batting instructor and worked with the infielders. The goal for the baseball team was to win the league championship.

Coach Benedickt's goals for the year were "for all the players to improve through-out the season and to play as many people as much as possible." Coach Benedickt said, "The strengths of the team are the defense and the depth of the pitching staff. The weakness is inexperience, especially with the pitchers."

"The Citrus Belt League isn't the toughest baseball league," Coach Benedickt said, "but there are no weak sisters; everyone plays tough. Riverside Poly and Colton were returning several key players; so, they probably are the toughest."

Coach Benedickt has many expectations for Eisenhower Baseball players. They are to do the best job possible representing Eisenhower.

He also expects them to be examples for others, rather than being exceptions to the rules just because they are athletes. The most important expectation of an Eisenhower baseball player is to never be out-hustled.

Under the coaching of Michelle Lonsert, the EHS swim team tried its best to meet its capabilities as a team.

Because the team only had about 30 members, it did not win as many swim meets as it hoped to, Coach Lonsert said.

Casey Hall again this year made the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) finals.

This year's team captains were Susan Rump and Casey Hall.

League opponents were San Bernardino, Cajon, Alta Loma, San Gorgonio, Upland, Riverside Poly, Fontana, Rubidioux, Colton, and Redlands High Schools.

Golf Swings to Win

Eisenhower's Golf Team practiced and played at El Rancho Verde Country Club in Rialto.

Mr. Walter Wogee, special education teacher, was the head coach. Team members included Eric Adkisson, Mike Harbauer, Dan Brown, Graeme Geib, Brandie Burton, Ben Ramsdell, Ken Hubbs, Bill Elwell, Eric Martinez, and John Wilson.

Matches were played against San Bernardino, Big Bear, Aquinas, San Gorgonio, Moreno Valley, Riverside Poly, Fontana, Rubidoux, Redlands, and Colton. Invitationals included the Palmdale and Citrus Belt League events.

Coach Wogee said he was proud of Brandie Burton and her achievements in the sport. He was pleased with the team this year.

Queen of Clubs

Brandie Burton

One of the top golfers in America attends Eisenhower High School.

Brandie was named Toyota Player of the Year at the Southern California Professional Golf Association banquet. She was among the top six boys and top six girls on Toyota's All-Southern California junior team and was captain of the team.

Rolex named its All-America first team for the American Junior Golf Association. Brandie was the youngest member of the 10-player squad.

Another honor was the Curtis Cup, the top honor for juniors in Southern California. Again she was the youngest player to achieve this honor.

Out of 27 tournaments played this summer, Brandie won 17 and finished second or third in the rest.

During the school year, she spent a week in Mexico for the Mexican Women's Amateur. She set a new course record by shooting 64 (8 under par) on the last day of the tournament, which she lost by one stroke. The 64 broke the old record set by Nancy Lopez.

At this event, Brandie broke the front 9 record with a 31, breaking the record held by Hollis Stacy who shot 32.

Juniors

Juniors Are the Color of Success

The 1987-88 Junior Class was hot! Graeme Geib, the junior class president, said he thought this class was the best athletically and academically.

An estimated 720 juniors registered in September as juniors.

The juniors two required classes were U.S. History and American Literature.

Other junior Class officers were Eddie Gallardo, vice president; Natalie Hamner, secretary; Bill Mitchell, treasurer; and April Kaminski, social chairperson. They were in charge of activities such as the junior float for Homecoming and the junior/senior prom. (By Angie Houlemard)

Leaders Help Out

The Junior Class officers worked on different projects during the year. They were in charge of school activities such as candy sales and field trips. Also they helped to plan the Junior/Senior Prom. Junior officers worked on school projects with the senior and sophomore officers also during the meetings on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the Student Council Room. The advisers for the Junior Class were Mr. Jeff Perkins, ASB adviser; Mr. Robert Cisneros, counselor; and Mr. John Myerchin, counselor. (By Craig Conner)

Academics

Education is Colorful

The start of the new school year brought a number of changes to the Eisenhower campus concerning academics.

With the rise in student enrollment, the number of courses offered increased. There were more classes in economics, foreign language, visual art, physical education and English added.

Several departments added addtional staff members in order to help carry the amount of students enrolled and to fill vacancies left by teachers who left last year and over the summer. Among the departments which added new staff members are math, science, social studies, foreign language and fine arts.

Some courses made use of one inservice on critical thinking skills and incorporated those skills in the Eisenhower curriculum. (By Gerrie Lester)

Color Me Artistic

Art was more than just a subject taught Monday through Friday agreed the EHS art teachers. They enjoyed the subjects, knew about famous works of art, encouraged students to polish their talents, and worked on their own art pieces.

Mr. Paul Muckenfuss, department chairman, taught art history, painting, color design, and studio art.

In I-6, Mr. Robert Bellah taught advanced ceramics.

Back in the art classroom after being the attitude adjustment teacher, Ms Elayne Davison taught drawing.

Business Skills Learned

There were many business classes that Eisenhower students could sign up for this year.

These included accounting, which taught students about keeping journals and records.

In office operations, students were helped with the operations of various machines used in offices and the techniques of office procedures. Students learned clerk/typist and secretarial skills.

Record keeping helped equip students with the basic vocational skills.

Shorthand and transcription dealt with phrase building, vocabulary building, and speed reading.

Students also could sign up for the various courses of type writing. (By Beth Lord)

English on All Levels

"To be or not to be . . . " these are the questions asked in the senior Shakespeare class. Many seniors chose this class to learn more about Shakespeare's plays and sonnets. At the end of the semester a class project is assigned to create something from Shakespeare's time period. At Eisenhower students in the tenth grade could enroll in Sophomore English I, II, III-P, or IV-P. Juniors could enroll in American Literature I, II, III-P, or IV-P. Seniors could enroll in Senior Composition, Great Works of English Literature, English Literature, and Advanced Placement English. (By Sandy Redwine)

Color of the Arts

The Fine Arts Department was headed by Paul Muckenfuss and included drama production, band (jazz, marching and, concert), choir (Madrigals, and Ike Choir), and the visual arts (ceramics, drawing, and painting).

The drama productions class was a class for those talented in acting. The class perfomed about three major plays during the year. To Gillian on Her 37th Birthday was the first play and it won the Southern California Educational Theater Association's award. That was a first for the high schools in the San Bernardino county. Harvey was the second play staged in R-1. Mr. Barry Wallace was the instructor.

The group seen out at all the home football games was a part of the band. In his first year at Eisenhower, Mr. Richard Siegel, band director, was well pleased with the group's achievements. They brought home many trophies that were won during the marching season.

This year's field show repertoire consisted of Amarillo, Old Time Rock 'n Roll, Chatanooga Choo-Choo, and When You Wish Upon A Star. The band performed at Dodger Stadium and Disneyland. The band was under the direction of the drum majors, Jeff Martin, senior, and Craig Conner, junior.

Mr. Andres Luna was the director of the Eisenhower choirs. He lead the groups in daily warm-up exercises as well as performances. The top vocal group was the Madrigals. This group performed on television once again for KUCR's Christmas program. They had their annual Pop Show, and as usual the viewers said it was a success.

Art classes were for students talented in drawing, painting, or ceramics. Mr. Paul Muckenfuss was the department chairman. Ms Elayne Davison and Mr. Robert Bellah also taught art classes. (By Craig Conner)

Learn to Converse in Many Languages

The Foreign Language classes offered at Eisenhower were Spanish, French, and German.

Each of the three courses stressed grammar, conversation, speaking, reading, and writing. Audio visual aides were used for additional practice.

The more advanced classes, such as Spanish II and French II and III, further emphasized the basics taught in the first year courses and stressed more oral conversation.

German II introduced German literature and culture. (By Gerrie Lester)

Driver Education and Health Education were requirements for all sophomore students at Eisenhower.

In Health Education, there was instruction about relationships, family life, substance abuse, and sexually transmitted diseases.

The Driver Education course combined classroom work. simulator practice, and behind the wheel training in a quarter. Once the student passes the total instruction, a license is issued.

Teachers included Mr. Tod O'Doherty, department chairman; Mr. Harry Violette, and Mr. Bill Crum. (By Caren Smith)

Preparing To Color: Home Ecomomics

The home economics department at EHS consists of sewing classes, foods' classes, singles living, child care classes, and a marriage and family class.

Students who took sewing were required to make two garments per semester. The student chooses the garment that they want to make, then it is approved by the teacher, Mrs. Nancy Vanaken. Mrs. Vanaken also teaches the needlework classes in which students learn to crochet, knitt, macrame, and other crafts where needles are used.

Mrs. Judy Malody is the instructor for all of the foods classes. Students don't just cook in her class, they plan the meal,and they also learn the nutritional value of all the foods they are cooking. Mrs. Malody's class is broken up into groups. Each group has their own stove, sink, oven, and dishwear that they use.

Child care and child care aide are taught by Mrs. Maggie Busch. She says these are her favorite classes to teach because "the students who take these classes are interested and want to learn." In child care the students learn about pregnancy from conception until pre-school age. Child care aide is a two hour class that is only offered second semester. Students go to various day care centers and help with the children.

Mrs. Busch also teaches a class called singles living. Students learn the responsibility of being on their own. Mrs. Busch said "The main point stressed in this class is consumerism."

"Marriage and family, I feel, should be a required class," said Georgia Frawley, the instructor. When asked why, she replied, "People take classes such as typing, welding, and trigonometry and may never use them again. Everyone will have to deal with a relationship and most with being a parent, but they don't know how to do it." Marriage and family teaches you about yourself and others, and how to communicate, to choose a mate, get married, parent, and foresee problems in marriage and parenting. Georgia Frawley also teaches science classes, and this year she had to petition for her marriage and family class because there was a shortage of science classes. Mr. Tim Stephenson offered to teach an extra science class so that she might get to teach her marriage and family class, she wishes to acknowledge his efforts and thank him. (By Melissa Reynolds)

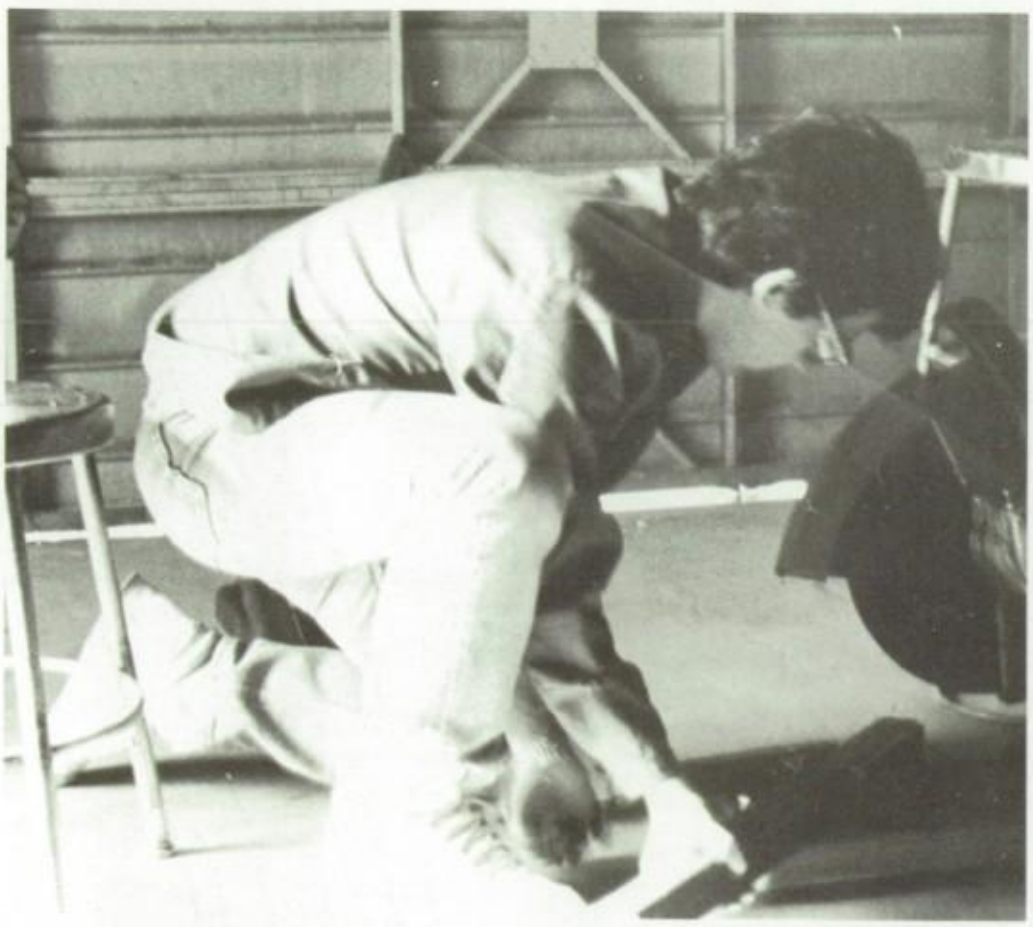
IA Gets Computerized



Mr. Jerry Bowen was department chairman of the Industrial Arts Department. He taught drafting, using the computer to do drafting. His class was held in J-4. He did not teach graphic arts this year in L-4 as the class was cancelled. L-4 became the Attitude Adjustment room.

In the Industrial Arts Department were four other teachers. They were Mr. Alan Parker who taught metals; Mr. Clarence Vanaken who taught small engines; Mr. Sid Gilbreath who taught welding; and Mr. Ken Blumenthal who taught wood.

In metals, students studied the areas of art metal, sheet metal and bench metal. Machine safety and work were also done.

Small engine students learned the practical experiences in repair and maintenance of small air cooled engines including engine overhaul, testing, and trouble shooting.

Welding students studied the basic skills in gas and electric welding and the techniques of cutting and brazing.

In wood, students acquired a basic understanding of machines, hand tools, hand tool processes, wood, and wood products. They also learn related mathematics to work successfully with wood. (By Jason Cox)

Math is More Than Numbers

The Math Department at Ike is a valuable section of our curriculum. Math is an essential resourse, and the math teachers try to be successful in their efforts to help the students comprehend complicated math functions.

This year students were instructed in basic mathematics operations, everyday living, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, introdution to computers, the metric system, statistics, computers, and calculus.

One class, Every Day Living Math, covered the typical situations a person would encounter as a full time employee figuring paychecks with deductions, being a wise consumer, keeping records of money spent, furnishing a room, buying a car, planning a vacation, moving into an apartment, and completing income tax forms.

Computers was advised for more advanced math students, and those students learned to program a minicomputer using BASIC and/or PASCAL and advanced programming techniques. The course may be repeated for credit and may be used for either math or vocational credit.

In Caculus P the students were given an opportunity to take the advanced placement test in calculus for possible colledge credits. (By Frank Perine)

Work in a Hospital

Students who enrolled in the Medical Careers/Nurses' Training classes for the school year learned methods in the classroom as well as in the hospital.

Various areas of instruction at hospitals were dietary aide, laboratory technician, nursing, medical records, pharmacy, and X-ray technician.

Mrs. Brenda Holen and Mrs. Eula Hill were the instructors who taught the class on and off campus. (By Miriam Phillips)

PE For All Seasons

Physical education was made to provide regular exercise and to teach skills in various sports and activties. PE offered archery, tennis, basketball, jazz, aerobics, circuit training and swimming. It was required for all sophomores, but it was an elective for seniors and juniors.

There were also classes such as contract and tended day PE for juniors and seniors. Classes w held at business establishments such as bowling alle Students who enrolled had to have been in regular classes. (By Tracy Howard)

Science Offers Variety of Subjects

In order to graduate, each student must take a physical and biological science. For those who need a different kind of science for a different career, there are many other kinds of classes offered.

Anatomy and physiology would be most likely needed in a medical career. Other classes include Chemistry, Horticulture, Physics and Life science. Each class requires a term paper, book report, and daily homework.

Chemistry students classes consist of studying atomic structure, periodic tables, chemical bonding, gas laws, oxidation reduction, solution chemistry, kinetics, structure of matter, states of matter, and reactions.

Horticulture is a course in which students have an opportunity to study the soil, water, and light requirements of plants. They will learn to grow plants and landscape yards.

Biology classes will be disecting frogs and attending a whale watch. They will be studying the anatomy of humans, plants, and animals. Areas of concentrated study include animal behavior, a field of ecological study of the chaparral, cellular metabolism and comparable animal physiology.

Life science is the study of the plant and animal kingdom and their related areas.

Physics explores the interrelationship of matter and energy and includes the study of time, space, motion, mechanics, light, electricity, magnetism, and atomic theory. (By Jynnifer Seeman)

Eisenhower Makes History

To make students more aware of their own history, culture and society, as well as the societies and cultures of other peoples, a variety of social studies classes were offered at Eisenhower.

The social studies classes offered were American Government, which concerns the basic principles of our government; Black History, which involves the appreciation of the Black American; Chicano Studies, about the Mexican-American culture; Economics, a course dealing with the mechanics of the economy; Psychology, about the field and its most important findings; Sociology, a course on the workings of our society; United States History, concerning the history of our government from its foundations to the cold war; Western Civilization, the subject of which is the principle themes of European History; Women in American History, dealing with the status of women through the United States History; World Cultures, which contrasts the features of several societies; and You and the Law, about the American legal system.

Gerrie Lester, a senior, said about Mr. Grisham's American Government class, "I feel that it is informative and interesting. It's not like some classes where you do book work all the time and don't care about what you're writing." (By Geoff Kneale)

Fill Out an Activity Form

Did your club have any fund raisers this year? Did you sell candles, candy, balloons, wrapping paper, or flowers? Did you have any car washes? Did yur club get fined for not filling out an activity form? Well, if you did, you experienced the everyday ritual of student council members.

With adviser, Mr. Jeff Perkins, and ASB president, Brooke Malody, the class set up pep rallies, arranged for dances, changed the Baseline school sign, and put up the school flag.

Student council members who were the student leaders of the school strived to boost the students' morale and reputation.

The class, held during fourth period, consisted of a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and social chairperson of ASB. There were also officers for each of the classes: seniors, juniors, and sophomores. (By Patrice Walsh)

Helping Make the Grade

Students were able to help in the classrooms, offices, the library, and the AV Department.

They received grades because the class in which they were enrolled was called TA. The director of the Teacher Aide program was Mr. Roger Reupert, athletic director. He handed out the forms at registration. Teachers then had their TAs fill them out for one period a day.

Students were allowed to TA for only one class. They also had the opportunity to enroll as aides in any of the offices or the library.

TAs graded papers, handed back assignments, ran errands, typed tests, put grades in the grade book, handed out books, checked charge cards, and took call slips out.

Teachers were grateful for the students who offered to help as TAs. The TAs did many jobs which then left more teaching time for the teachers. The indepth grading of essays still had to be done by teachers, though.

The office and library TAs were able to also gain an understanding of the procedures for possible jobs in those areas.

Learning to Earn

Several different classes were available to students who wanted to enroll in Regional Occupations Programs and Vocational Education classes.

Classes were held on and off campus.

Administration of Justice, Automotive, Aviation, Business, Food Services, Journalism, Landscaping, and Sales and Mechandising were among classes offered in the two categories.

Students earned credits for graduation and in some classes found jobs as soon as the classes ended.

Aquila Staff Does It Again

Because of the requirement for students to have a fine arts elective, many students tried out for the Aquila staff for the 1987-88 school y The staff started out with 28 students which was the largest number in several years.

Students in the yearbook class thought of a theme, designed the cover, planned what would go on each of the 320 pages, designed the e sheets, counted ballots for the yearbook dedication, interviewed people for stories, planned page layouts, took pictures and typed copy computers.

Phone calls were made by the staff members to check on pictures, camera equipment, and ads.

Students also had to sell candy and a full page of advertising as part of their assignment.

School and yearbook spirit was shown when the staff members purchased t-shirts with the cover desi printed on them.

When staff members could not be found in the cla room, they were found in the darkroom developing fi and printing pictures.

SENIORS

A Splash of Class

From the time of September's registration to June's graduation, seniors were looking forward to the rest of their lives.

"This is the best year of your life," had been told to seniors by many people this year.

Included in the outgoing pile of finances for the senior year were many events to help make the senior year complete. Items that seniors spent money on included senior portraits, class rings, SAT's, the Prom, and Grad Nite. Other activities included passing required senior classes, passing competencies, applying to colleges, attending college nights, and attending as many sporting games and pep rallies as possible.

What is yet to come for some seniors, they can only guess; while, some have been accepted in colleges, into the military, or into full-time jobs upon graduation which will be June 15, 1988.

By the end of the 1987-88 senior year, some seniors would have spent an average of $1,200 on their final year. (By Jynnifer Seeman)

Officers of the Associated Student Body and of the Senior Class worked closely on projects throughout the year.

Planning senior trips, graduation, Football Homecoming, and overseeing the Junor and Sophomore Class plans took up much time during the fourth period Student Council Class.

Lori Freitas, ASB vice-president, said, "Mainly we all work together."

Specific duties performed by Senior Class officers included: president-preside over business meetings, suervises all members and activities, and acts as representative of Eisenhower; vice president-ICC president, assists president; secretary-takes minutes at business meetings for seniors and ASB; treasurer-in charge of purchase orders, works closely with the financial secretary; social chairperson: oversees the plans for dances.

The sponsor for both ASB and Seniors was Jeff Perkins.

Clubs

Color Me Active

Being in a club at Eisenhower gave the students spirit. They wore club shirts and were active in many campus and community events.

MEChA, Choir, Aquila, Student Council, and Eagle's Eye were among clubs and organizations that purchased club shirts this year.

Most clubs and organizations at Ike promoted fund raisers. These included candy sales, car washes, beef jerky sales, carnation sales, or spirit ribbon sales. Monies earned went for scholarships for members, for field trips, or for helping meet budget requirements.

Some field trips included trips to museums, colleges, contests, whale watches, and restaurants.

Not only did club members give up lunch times for club meetings, they also worked on Saturdays to clean up the campus or after school on community projects. (By Sandy Redwine)

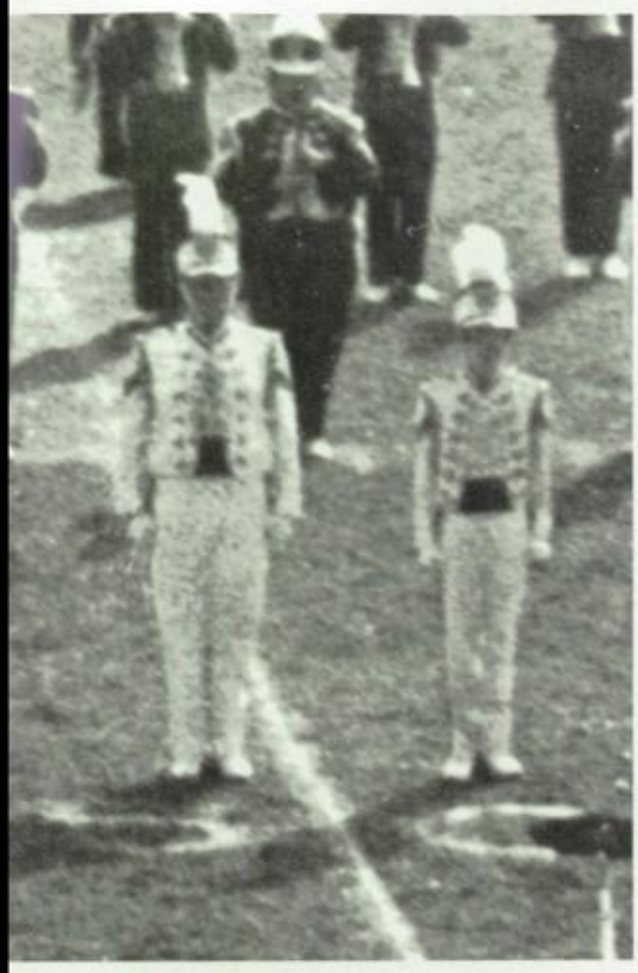
Colors The School!



This year's Golden Eagle Alliance started the year under the new direction of Mr. Richard Siegel. Mr. Siegel came over from Northview High School in Riverside and got the band going with a new policy that a lot of students had to adjust to. Despite early troubles the group was able to pull out a quite prosperous season.

Drum majors were Jeff Martin and Craig Conner. Tall Flag captains were Andrea Rea and Debbie Wilburn. Drill Team captains were Connie Borrero and Julie Harden.

The three units which make up the Golden Eagle Alliance brought home numerous trophies to show off their talents. (By Craig Conner)

Friday Night Lives Comes to Ike

Friday Night Live was the new club on campus.

It is an organization similar to Students Against Drunk Drivers (SADD), said Mrs. Christine Mitchell, sponsor.

The club was started on campus when Laura Bird, sophomore, thought it was a good program, and it should be here.

She approached Mr. Jeff Perkins, ASB sponsor, who sent Laura and Robbie Baker, another student interested in Friday Night Live, to a conference called Lean On Me.

They then asked teachers to sponsor the club and Mrs. Mitchell agreed.

Laura became president and Robbie became the treasurer.

The club members strive to alert the public's and the student body's awareness of the hazards and tragedies caused by drinking or doing drugs and driving.

The club members planned an assembly on March 1 and handed out stickers on campus. The club was pa of a nation wide organization and locally funded by th San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

"Our sister school is Redlands High School," sa Laura. "They are currently called SADD but are chan ing to be Friday Night Live," she added.

The Eisenhower Friday Night Live Club m Wednesdays at lunch in F-4.

Mrs. Mitchell asked staff members to pass the wo along to students about Friday Night Live. She and th club members felt that it was a worthwhile club for students on Eisenhower's campus to belong to.

Students were urged to listen to the bulletin a nouncements and attend the meetings. To get ma students involved in Friday Night Live was the goal the club members.

Clubs Want to Do Service Projects

Club members at Eisenhower do more than plan social gatherings. members of several clubs want their organizations to be known as service clubs.

One such club, the Movimiento Estudiatil Chicano de Aztlan (MEChA), received letters of commendation for work done for the Gents Organization and for a project for the Rialto ecumenical and Community Hospitality (REACH).

MEChA members worked at the first 5k/10k run program sponsored by the Gents, a nonprofit organization assisting the underpriveleged in the greater Inland Empire. The event was a fund raiser for the needy.

"Seven gift wrapped boxes with shiny blue bows made our Christmas boxes for seven needy families much more colorful and festive," read a letter by Betty Stewart, administrative associate of REACH to Mrs. Sylvia Payan, MEChA sponsor. MEChA members donated food to needy families of Rialto as part of their yearly Christmas service project.

These club membrs also presented each of Eisenhower's staff with Christmas gifts of pencils, candy, and a pencil holder.

Another club wanting to establish itself as a service organization is the Spanish Club. Aaron Olive, president brought up the idea to provide punch and cookies to teachers at the two-day spring semester registration.

Friday Night Live, a new club, is sponsored by Mrs. Christine Mitchell. Students joined with the plans of allerting the student body's awareness of the hazards and tragedies caused by drinking or doing drugs and driving.

Another established service club was We Care. Members helped with Special Olympics. Club sponsor was Mr. Doug Smith.

Eagle's Eye Captures the News

The Eagle's Eye staff this year was lead by Paul Lynd, editor in chief. Paul was a national journalism award winner, one of 12 finalists in the Southern California Journalism Education Association's scholarship contest, and the writer of the longest story in Eagle's Eye history.

Eagle's Eye was spotlighted in the Rialto Record when the Supreme Court ruling on censorship was passed. The high school journalists felt that the ruling giving administrators authority on what could or could not be published was an error in judgement. The staff decided that it would continue with its policy of printing the campus news without fear of censorship.

Field trips consisted of a workshop to UCR, trips to the printers, a Journalism Day for the local junior high journalists, a press conference for the Academy Awards nominations, and Write-Off contests.

Staff

Staff Brightens 3,000 Lives

With the increased enrollment of students, the Eisenhower staff was able to reach out to about 3,000 students this year. The staff, too, was increased to about 120 teachers and about 75 other personnel including administrators, aides, secretaries, librarians, technicians, clerks, custodians, nurses, maintenance staff members, counselors, and campus supervisors.

The staff worked together on planning inservices and incorporating the lessons learned in their classrooms.

A new position was created this year in the counseling office. Dr. Marsha Edmonds joined the staff as the new associate principal.

Ofelia Delgado joined the staff just as the new year began. She substituted for Lisa Studebaker who returned to college to obtain another degree.

Other new teachers included Martin Sipe, Edward D'Sousa, Edith Pickens, Steven Howard, Judy Traughber, Tom Benedickt, Cara Miller, Richard Siegel, Steve Voisard, Janet Himmler, Kay Dobbertin, and Lowell Amrine. Other new personnel were Kim Churchill, budget clerk; Patricia Hadersbeck, attendance clerk; Rebecca Juarez, secretary to the associate principal; Jewel Parrish, budget clerk; Cris Dancel, gardener; and Bill Egan, ROP and Adult Education director.

The Staff Club, lead by Judy Malody, also consisted of other officers Paul Muckenfuss, Beverly Martinez, Gordon Nicholson, June Nicholson, Frank Mason, and Bert Cassan. They planned staff pot-luck luncheons, TGIF parties, and the Christmas party.

TEACHERS, Mrs. Marcie Curry, Mrs. Paula Malody, Mrs. Maggie Busch, and Mrs. Doris McCafferty, complete the CBEDS forms, a yearly task, to update information such as their class counts, salary range, and university credit. All teachers completed the forms before school in the cafeteria in October. (Photo by Wendy Bettar)

Custodians Support Ike

Custodians supported Ike's campus day and night with two different crews plus a gardener and maintenance man.

They not only cleaned the campus and classrooms, but they also arranged the cafeteria, gym and fields for assemblies and sporting events.

Windows and lights were also taken care of by them.

Students Earn, Learn

The Regional Occupational Program (ROP) worked in many fields helping students get extra credits towards their high school graduation. Students not only earned credits but also were able to learn job skills.

In ROP, a student could earn 15 units per semester. A maximum of 40 units could be earned in high school.

ROP provided learning in Word Processing, Business Skills, Sales and Merchandising, and Audio Visual Occupations among others. (By Tracy Howard)

Campus Supervisors — Ever Alert

Eisenhower's campus supervisors numbered four. They had more areas to cover this year because of their lower number. Also they were in charge of the Attitude Adjustment room some periods of the school day because no teacher received the full-time assignment.

The campus supervisors included Ms Melody Dunn, Mr. Ray Miller, Mr. Russell Thorpe and Mr. Bob Gibbs.

A new gardener was hired to beautify the campus. He was Mr. Cris Dancel, who also wanted to end the litter problem on campus.

TALKING TO STUDENT, Tom Rodriguez, Ms Melody Dunn did not always take students away for disciplinary measures. At times campus supervisors counseled students, told them that their car lights were on, let them know that the tardy bell was about to ring, or let them know that there was a problem with their car.

PRETENDING TO TAKE AWAY Charles Longsworth, Mr. Russell Thorpe found some time for comic relief with his serious job..

From Teaching to Owning Business

New teacher to the Business Department was Ms Janet Himmler who taught typing and office operations.

Ms Himmler taught high school in Arizona and then at Rubidoux High School in Riverside, California.

She earned a master's degree in business education from Northern Arizona University.

"Every so often in teaching, you need to make teaching technique changes," she said.

Shorthand was the subject she like to teach the best because it is challenging.

One day Ms Himmler would like to own her own business.

Helps for Life

Six teachers from the Home Economics and Drive Education/Health departments felt that they were preparing students for better lives after high school.

These teachers helped students make their home lives better by teaching them about cooking, sewing and child care. Students had a chance to learn more than just the basics in these classes as the teachers also taught advanced techniques, too.

In Driver Education, the teachers not only taught the basics from the book; but they also gave students hands on experience behind the wheel. Simulators and cars played a big part in the class. The teachers also had serious discussions with the future drivers about all the hazards they could possibly encounter.

English Department Adds Teachers

Even though spelling, reading, and writing were part of the English curriculum, addition and subtration played a big part.

Mr. Frank Mason left the English Department to teach math. New to the school and the department this year were Mr. Lowell Amrine, Mrs. Judy Traughber, and Miss Cara Miller, who also taught in the Foreign Language Department.

Ms Ann Taylor returned to teach full-time English; while, Miss Georgia Willis taught the Alternative English Program.

The Science Department instructors helped students through various problems. They assisted students in searching out answers and speculating reasons.

The department chairperson was Mr. Dane Scott.

There were two new teachers who joined the department: Mr. Edward D'Souza and Mrs. Edith Pickens.

Mrs. Pickens joined the staff from Frisbie Junior High School. Before that she taught in Georgia and North Carolina. She received an associate of arts degree from Mount Oliver College and a bachelor of arts degree from Saint Andrews University, both in North Carolina. She is currently working on a master's degree in counseling.

Joining the staff from Kolb Junior High School, Mr. D'Souza earned his bachelor's degree from Grinell University in Iowa where he used to teach at a high school. Not only did he teach science, but he also taught French and geometry.

Teachers Make History Come Alive

Three teachers joined the History Department, which found most of its department members in the B-wing portable classrooms.

"History is my favorite subject to teach," said new teacher Mr. Tom Benedickt, who also coached baseball, "because I like the past and old things." Mr. Benedickt joined the EHS staff from Kolb Junior High School.

According to new teacher, Mr. Steve Voisard, "Eisenhower has a good representation of cultures and ethnic groups which should be exciting for a social studies teacher." He previously taught at Belmont High School in Los Angeles.

Coming to Ike, Mr. Martin Sipe was hired not only to teach history but also to coach Boys' Varsity Basketball. He has been teaching for over 20 years in Ohio, Arizona, and California.

Special Education classes increased for the 1987-88 school year. The staff consisted of seven teachers along with their classroom aides. The department was chaired by Mrs. June Nicholson, who was also a mentor teacher for the Rialto Unified School District.

One teacher also took part in sponsoring after school sports. Mr. Richard Wilson coached the Boys' and Girls' Tennis teams and took several Ike tennis players to the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) playoffs.

On campus, the new buildings behind the J-wing were installed to house the county special education offices in which students would be interviewed for possible placement at Eisenhower High School.

No Place to Call Home

Many teachers specialize in one subject, but there are still a few who take time to branch out into various different fields. However, some of these teachers find themselves running all over the campus to reach their subjects which are taught in many different classrooms.

New teachers Miss Cara Miller and Mr. Edward D'Souza had the most varied subjects and room assignments. Mr. Jeff Perkins spent most of his time in the student council room, but then left to teach in a D-wing classroom, also. (By Miriam Phillips)

Personnel Supplies Nutrition

Cafeteria workers did a lot more than serve the food lunchtime. They were in the kitchen early to prepare od for students and staff members.

For Thanksgiving, the cafeteria personnel served a ncheon for the teachers. Reservations were needed.

Before school, they also sold breakfast food and hot offee. Many teachers would stop by the cafeteria be- re going to their mailboxes in the morning.

Industrial Arts teachers took the time to instruct their students in several trades. Mr. Jerry Bowen, department chairman, taught computer drafting this year. Several new computers lined the walls in his classroom as students learned to be current in the drafting industry.

New welding techniques were taught by Mr. Sid Gilbreath, who also coached wrestling. Several wood projects were constructed by students of Mr. Ken Blumenthal. Metal shop was taught by Mr. Alan Parker. Mr. Clarence Vanaken taught the small engines class.

Ads

Color Me Green

Advertising was an important part of the Aquila. This year the annual staff sold 30 pages of ads to defray the cost of printing the yearbook.

The Eisenhower High School yearbook staff would like to thank each advertiser for support and cooperation in making this annual an affordable one for the students who purchased it. Without the advertisers, the price of the yearbook would be too high for many to afford a memory of their 1987 — 88 school year.

Melissa Reynolds was in charge of the advertising section, and the Aquila staff wishes to acknowledge all her work in making the ad section a place in which many advertisers wished to be included. (By April Mobley)

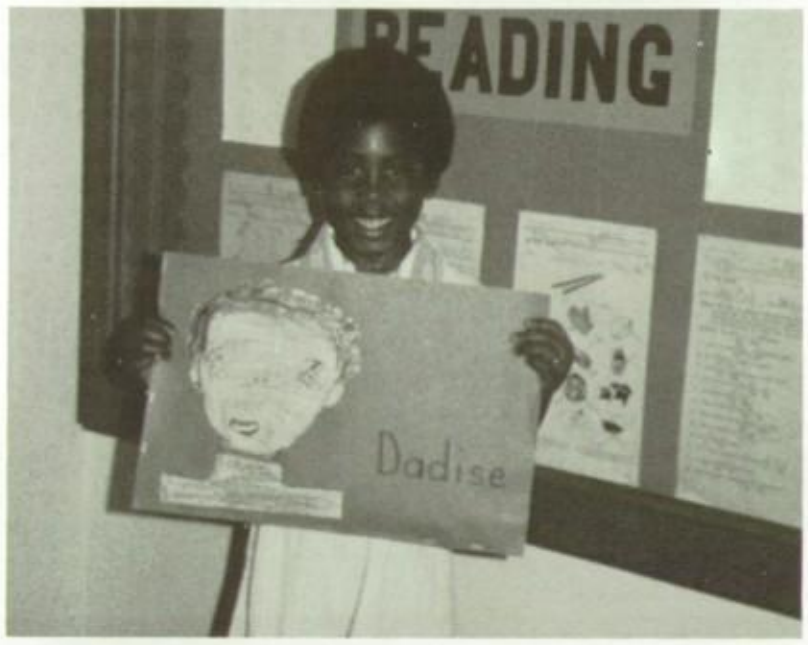
Dadise Scott



Dadise, (D.C.)

Words alone cannot express the emotions that we feel about you. Your father and I are so proud of the challenges you have conquered. You have a special gift to offer this world. Your tenacity will open many doors for you, so, D.C., remember as you're running across the finish line of life that your family will always be behind you.

Love Your Best Friend Mom
And
Your #1 Fan Dad

P.S. Dadise, you're the fastest runner in the world.
Love, Little "T"

P.S.S.
D.C., I love you and you mean the world to me.
I hope you will be successful in everything you do.
Love, Your Big Brother

Gerrie Lester

Gerrie,

This is from all of us who love you. We are so very proud of you and hope that all of your dreams for the future come true.

Who would have thought you'd grow into such a lovely young lady when you were such a little stinker.

Honey, be all that you can be and never settle for second best.

All your hard work has finally paid off, and you have made it to the big day. Have fun and enjoy because now you will have to get down to the seriousness of living.

Just be yourself.

Congratulations, Honey, we love you.

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR #1 DAUGHTER AND SISTER

Well, this is your year and we can't believe that it has come so fast. You're graduating from high school now and getting ready to experience even bigger, better and more exciting endeavors to come.

What can we say except that we are extremely proud of you in all that you have accomplished. We wish you much luck, success, and happiness in what lies before you.

But we just want to let you know that even though you've grown into a beautiful young lady . . .

We will always think of you as our little "Aloha" baby.

We love you Alysia,
Mom, Dad, Annette, Gypsey,
and Napoleon

Keri Allen

Reminiscence takes on special meaning when those memories have lead to this very special day. Our memories of you, Keri, are and always will be special to us because of all the happiness and smiles you have brought into our lives. We are extremely proud of you, Keri, and we both love you very much —

Congratulations,
Mom & Dad

Alina Ponder

Congratulations, Alina,
You are a great sister. Good luck in the future.
Love your one and only Brother,
Ronnie

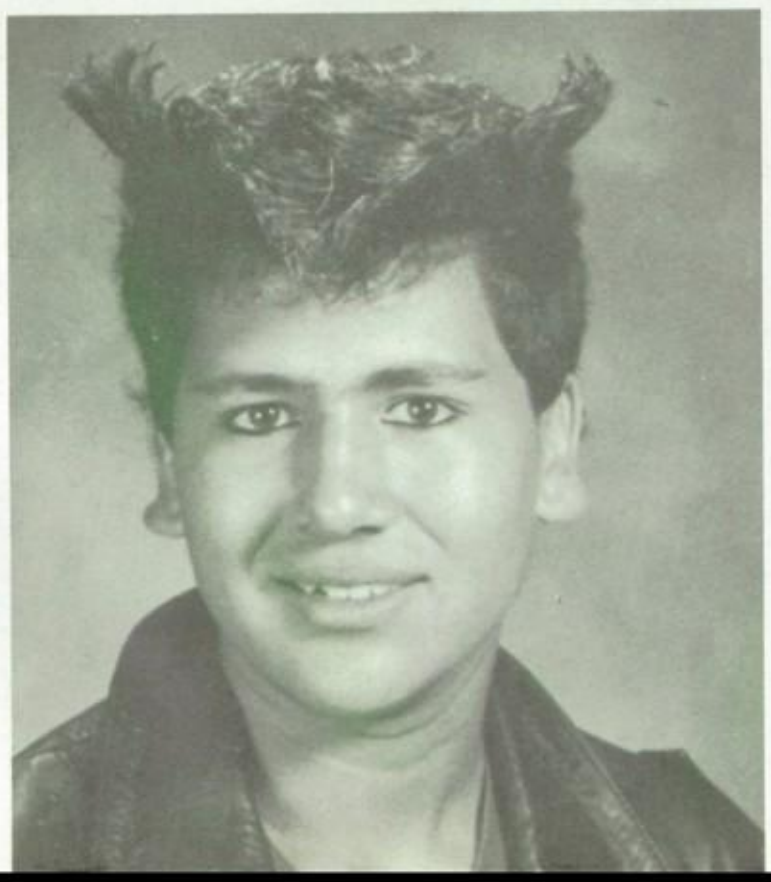
BRYAN GARCIA

RIALTO — Bryan David Garcia, 16, a Rialto resident for 4 years, formerly of Hacienda Heights, passed away Dec. 28, 1987.

He was born in West Covina. He was a sophomore at Eisenhower High School in Rialto, and a member of St. Thomas More Catholic Church. Survivors include his father, Arthur D. Garcia; mother Barbara J. Garcia; paternal grandparents, Mr. & Mrs. Ignacio Garcia, all of Rialto; maternal grandmother, Lebrada Acosta of Albuquerque, N.M.; paternal great-grandmother, Elaine Garcia of Montebello; and paternal great-grandmother, Agripina Rosales of Montebello; ,maternal great-grandmother, Mary Acosta of Torrance; and brother, Michael Garcia of Rialto.

Visitation is from 2 to 5 p.m. today in the Rialto Chapel of McNearney Family Mortuary, 875-1123. Rosary is at 7:30 p.m. today at St. Thomas More Catholic Church. Mass of Christian burial is at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Thomas More Catholic Church, followed by interment at Forest Lawn Cemetery-Covina Hills.



Changes at Eisenhower

During the last nine months, several changes have occurred at Eisenhower. New students have arrived to fill the completed buildings between the "J" and "L" wings; most students are parking in the student parking lot with one more exit lane; computers were installed in the counseling center and a new class was added to the curriculum second semester.

Construction crews have frequented the Eisenhower campus for the last few years. Their latest project, the new special education buildings, was completed in January. From spring, 1987, through the first month of 1988, workmen hammered nails, laid concrete, put up dry-wall, and painted the buildings, transfoming the skeletal structures into classrooms. The classrooms are required by the district to be built on various school campuses and to be used by physically and mentally handicapped students.

Mid-year, students were encouraged to park their personal vehicles in the student parking lot by the police and city (via the no parking signs) and by Principal Delbert Bredy. Principal Bredy asked students not to park in the vacant lot north of the campus in an announcement made near the beginning of the year. To relieve the congestion in the parking lot, another exit lane was created by construction crews over winter break.

For the safety of the students, the fruitless mulberry trees were trimmed this school year. The trees were had not been pruned for five years, causing them to pose a potential threat to passers-by.

For the second semester, a new class was added: Marriage and Family. The course was offered due to the pressures on the administration created by Mrs. Georgia Frawley. She feels that it should be a required course because the knowlege and skills attained in the class are relevant to the future married couples' lives (see page 172).

To eliminate the stress and havoc created by traditional Eisenhower registrations, computer terminals were installed in the counseling center in near the end of March. The Ike computer terminals are connected to a mainframe computer located at the district office. Registering students in the future will fill out cards and the computer will assign classes. As well, the computers will aid counselors in student academic planning.

On a personal level, as one looks around the campus, one cannot help but notice the changes in students. Sophomores appear to act more like juniors, juniors appear to act more like seniors, and seniors fail to appear at all as senioritis set in. Everybody looks a little taller, and hopefully, a little wiser.

Several events outside of Eisenhower's grounds affected students' lives. During the last school year, students starting watching allegedly prime time shows. Californians in general curbed their freeway driving habits due to much media publicized freeway shootings. Television evangelists and politicians lost even more respect from students because of their respective scandals: the Jim and Tammy Bakker/Jessica Hahn affair, the Gary Hart/Donna Rice scandal and Contra-gate. Several people avoided flying due to the crash of a PSA airplane, lax airport security and, to a much lesser extent, the ban on smoking on all flights under two hours. Football fans were split on two occasions: the football players' strike and the planned Raider's move to Irwindale. Students took sides on the subject of health clinics in schools. During the school year, health clinics were created on a few Los Angeles high school campuses. A greater awareness was promoted by the commandeering of David Horowitz during his Fight Back segment in the news. It was a very scandalous and interesting year.

Students were treated to a variety of films while wearing a new influx of fashions. They watched suspense films like Fatal Attraction, comedy films like Planes, Trains and Automobiles, controversial films like For Keeps, and fantasy films like Robocop. The most popular fashion was acid wash: acid washed jeans, acid washed shirts, acid washed everything. The double belted pant was popular for men. Mini skirts were the rage of women. Black tweed coats were worn by both, in the absence of an acid washed jean jacket.

Miss Missy's Adventure

My three years at EHS have been a time in my life that I will never forget. I want to dedicate this page to all my family who have helped me be the best I can be. I also wish to thank few special people: my parents, for years of dedicated service; Michelle Lang, for understanding and being there; Mommy Lang, for looking out for me; Netta Bankston for being the best sister I could ever ask for; Wendy Bettar for being the best adviser ever; Dee-Dee and the Gang for getting me through the rough times. I couldn't have made it without any of you. Thanks Guys! I would like to tell the 1987-88 Aquila staff thanks for all your hard work and efforts. To the graduating class of '88: CONGRATULATIONS! and see you in 5 years! (By Melissa Reynolds)

Hi, I'm Nancy Reagan, not really, but seriously folks I'm Lee Iaococo and I want to sell you your next car and your next one (ha, I kill me).

Well, let me take this precious time to thank all the little people who helped me get to where I am today. I thank Bozo the clown, ALF, and Pee-Wee Herman for my high intellectuality and maturity, and Spuds Mac Kenzie, and some of my teachers for my brains.

But really folks, most of the thanks goes to my mommy and daddy Without them I would have been an orphan on a cloud. Without Ma and Pa I would not be as smart and mature as I am today.

I thank you for all the love and guidance you two have given me throughout your most favorite 17 years of life. You have always given us the best of everything from Christmas Trees, to all the clothes I do not like to match.

Thank you both, and may God Bless You.

Oh yeah, I also thank you for the duo citizenship to Ireland. Someday, I'll use it and that's a promise!

MERRY CHRISTMAS,
Patrice Walsh

Ryan Carrigan : darkroom, sports.

Gerrie Lester : student life, class section.

Teresa Pedrosa : sports, clubs, division pages juniors.

Wendy Bettar :advising all sections of the yearbook rewarding us when we did well.

The yearbook staff decided on the theme of "A Splash of Color" to show a variety in the yearbook jus as EHS is a variety of people. Extra color was added t the division pages. The cover, showing splashes of co or, was designed by the students themselves.

Colophon
Special Thanks

Volume XXIX of the Aquila yearbook of Eisenhower High School, Rialto, California, was published by the 25-member staff and printed by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas.

The 328 pages of "A Splash of Color" for 1988 were printed on 80 lb. high gloss enamel paper with two signatures of 80 lb. high gloss Celesta enamel paper. Taylor Publishing Company printed 1,100 copies of the 1988 Aquila.

The Aquila cover was designed by the class members and was painted by Frank Perine and Ryan Carrigan. The printing was called Brush.

Print inside was in styles of helvetica.

The endsheets and division pages were drawn by Frank Perine.

Cameras used were Pentax, Minolta, and Canon. About 3,000 black and white photos were taken and about 400 color photos were taken by students. Varden Studios, Inc. took the photos of the seniors, Homecoming, some staff members, and some sports.

Varden printed the color photos; while, Aquila staff members and Varden printed the black and white photos.

Total production cost of the 1988 Aquila was in excess of $37,000. To defray production costs not covered by the sale of the annuals, the yearbook staff sold advertising and held a candy sale.

Special thanks needs to go to several people, on an off campus who were helpful when the Aquila staff needed extra work done.

Glenda Smith of M Graphics who gave us paper for our cove design.

Debbie Kohn, senior, who took pictures, printed pictures, and ra errands for the yearbook.

Varden Studios, Inc.representatives Sue Walter, Mike Steven Mary, TJ, Roberta, and Robert who helped answer questions an took pictures.

Taylor Publishing Company representatives Jane Kasel an Norma Ortiz who helped bring out the theme and who made sugge tions for layout to better the yearbook.

Taylor Publishing Company representatives in Dallas, Texa who answered all of our computer questions.

Richard and Linda Burnett of Burnett Studios who took the tim to print pictures, give us pointers, and clean equipment.

Barbara Cannon, math teacher, who helped us set up t printer.

Angie Houlemard, April Mobley, Erica Morris, Amy Phillip and Eddie Veliz who helped on some yearbook pages.

These people gave of their time and efforts to assist on the 198 yearbook and work along with the Aquila staff. We thank them for a their help, encouragement, ideas, and patience.

Dearest Darling Dayna: 1988!

I don't even want to do this cause I'll probably get all sad. Can you totally believe this? Our last annual. Our last year. It's too good to be true. We've definitely had a lot of good memories together. I guess you could go ahead and say that we've had a few? Bad times too. When we look back and think, what did I learn at school? we can both say "I learned how to kick some ass + have one best friend!". Don't think we won't have the last word with that bitch either. (enough, enough about her) I can't wait til the beach. Dayna, you're such a dear friend to me. We've been in there for a long time and it's completely paid off. We're lucky enough that we don't have to say "Well she was my friend, and then that girl was, but then I was w/ her boyfriend so then I got another friend." You're so special and have always stuck by me. I wouldn't swap you for anyone else. (except maybe, a tall tan, blue eyed blond haired muscley man in a Ferrari. w/ a big gigantic house on the beach). just jokin' We're gonna have a bunch of fun together for the rest of our lives. I love you so much (Even if it means babysitting your brothers bratty kids!) Love Post

To Dayna,
To one of my closest friends I am so glad we became such good friends this year. God, what would I have done through ceramics or especially through two classes of word process (remember it was your idea to take 2 classes of word processing!!!) I know we're gonna see each other a lot over the summer and next year so I'm not gonna worry about that. I hope you and Mar do great and thanks to both of you for being there after the prom when I had a terrible time and making me not feel left out at Disneyland until Pat got there. I can't wait till we all can go to Magic Mountain this summer. It'll be good. Love Debbie Areman well shit I AM glad I got to know you this year. You are a really neat Girl. I hope the best with you and MARC. And the ~~one~~ thing, dont there's Just ~~one~~ thing, see my art you jealous when hope to see you around. As long as I can give me a call. 799-2302 sometime.

Love
John S. Amonds.

Dayna
It's been fun having you as a friend even though you thought that I doing something didn't like we still be friends
